PHP for Beginners

This free online course introduces you to the server-side scripting language PHP where you will learn about the early history of the language before delving into the syntax. Included in the syntax are keywords and tags commonly used when creating PHP environments and the subtle differences between PHP and other languages like HTML, C#, and Java. As with any coding language whitespace, comments and variables will be covered.

Modules Studied

Module 1: PHP Development

Module 2: Arrays and Functions

Module 3: Course assessment
